

Stephen Woodhill

Stephen Woodhill is the CEO of the Group of 100 (G100) and Director of Woodhill Communication. The G100 is the business association representing Chief Financial Officers and senior finance executives and Woodhill Communication is a corporate public affairs company.

Stephen has managed the corporate affairs functions for several ASX listed companies, lobby groups, regulatory authorities, consultancies, not for profit organisations as well as managing communication for a Cabinet Minister.

As well as a Masters Degree in Communication, Stephen has a Bachelors Degree in Political Science and in Economic History; and until recently was undertaking a PhD in social media.

He is a member of the PRIA; member of the Asia-Pacific Association of Communication Directors; member of the Australian Professional Government Relations Association; an Associate Fellow of the Australian Institute of Marketing; a Certified Practicing Marketer and is a member of the National Press Club of Australia. Stephen is a White Ribbon Ambassador, a member of the Cauliflower Club (a Rugby charity), and until recently was an active Rugby Referee.