

Professor Claire Wakefield is a UNSW Professor and Director of the Behavioural Sciences Unit at Sydney Children's Hospital. Prof Wakefield is also Co-Director of a new national alliance, called Kids to Adults (K2A): Chronic Illness Alliance. K2A is a collaborative of clinicians, researchers, parents and young people. K2A's vision is to improve quality of life in children, adolescents and young adults living with a chronic illness or disability. K2A believes that by acting now, we can change the lives of the 1 in 5 children with chronic illness. Working together, we aim to help children realise their personal potential and advance the future of Australia. K2A will lead research driven by families, in collaboration with government and not-for-profit partners.
