AN INVISIBLE ILLNESS

On the surface, people living with cystic fibrosis (CF) are often deemed to 'look healthy enough'. However, we understand the challenges people living with CF face beyond the surface. CF is often mistaken for other illnesses, and assumptions are often made that a person is 'not that sick' at face value.

But CF is an invisible illness that more than 3,600 Australians live with each and every day, and sadly, there is no cure.

There are just over 24hrs left in our end-of-financial-year campaign, to support people like Zahra who are significantly impacted by CF each day, but constantly hope for a brighter future. Like Zahra, there are many people living with CF who are ineligible or do not respond to currently available treatments. This needs to change.

Please invest today, in the future of our CF Community.

As the peak body for Australians living with CF, your generous support will ensure research is continued, advocacy for the many challenges our community face are being addressed, and patient and clinical improvements are being enhanced, so that all persons living with CF can lead full and valuable lives.

Thank you to everyone who has already donated, your contribution does not go unnoticed.

All donations above $2 are tax-deductible.

Donate today and be part of a brighter CF future, where all people have access to affordable treatments.
