

4 September 2023

OPPORTUNITY TO SHARE YOUR CF TREATMENT PREFERENCES

Community and Patient Preference Research (CaPPRe), an independent research organisation, is conducting a project related to living with cystic fibrosis. This research aims to understand the treatment preferences and experiences of people living with CF in both the USA and Australia. More specifically, the objective is to understand what treatment features or attributes are most important to people with CF, so that treatment experiences may potentially be improved in the future.

What's involved?

We invite you to complete a 30-minute online survey to help us gather insights on patient treatment preferences. If you qualify to participate in this research and complete the survey, you will receive an electronic gift card in the amount of AUD$60 in recognition of your time contributing to this research.

How to participate:

To see if you qualify to participate in this research, please click on the following link (or copy and paste this address into your web browser): Survey Link

If you or someone you know may be eligible and interested in participating, please see the flyer attached for more information, or contact CaPPRe's Research Manager, samson.kong@cappre.com.au.