One Week to Go: Layne's Heroic 29-Day Streak of Half Ironmen's Nears the Finish Line

With just one week remaining in Layne's extraordinary 36-day Half Ironman challenge, we are excited to announce that he has completed an astonishing 29 days straight of this gruelling test of endurance.

Layne's incredible dedication serves as a beacon of hope for the 3,600 Australians living with cystic fibrosis (CF), and we are calling on individuals and organizations alike to join us in supporting this vital cause.

Layne's Challenge in Numbers:

29 Days Straight: Layne has demonstrated unparalleled determination, pushing his limits day in and day out, as he inches closer to completing an unparalleled 36 consecutive Half Ironmen's.

Each Half Ironman consists of a 1.9km swim, a 90km bike ride, and a 21.1km run, making it an arduous test of physical and mental endurance. By the time Layne completes his challenge, he will have accomplished an astonishing total of 68.4kms swimming, 3,240kms cycling, and 759.6kms running.

Supporting the Cystic Fibrosis Community:

Layne's monumental effort extends far beyond personal achievement; it is a dedicated fundraising endeavour to support Cystic Fibrosis Australia and the entire CF community. The 3,600 Australians living with CF face daily challenges, and your contribution can make a meaningful impact.

How You Can Help:

We invite individuals, businesses, and communities to come together and support Layne's mission by donating to Cystic Fibrosis Australia and helping Layne reach his fundraising target. Your generosity will help fund research, improve quality of care, and raise awareness about cystic fibrosis.
