📣 One Week to Go Until the Australasian Cystic Fibrosis Conference! 📣

We are thrilled to remind you that there is just one week left until the highly anticipated 15th Australasian Cystic Fibrosis Conference kicks off in Brisbane!

This year's conference promises to be a remarkable gathering of experts, researchers, and advocates, all coming together to share the latest advancements and insights in cystic fibrosis.

We are also excited to share that the Journal of Respiriology has officially published all accepted abstracts for the conference. This publication represents an incredible achievement and a testament to the hard work and dedication of everyone involved.
